About us

We challenge difficult IT implementations

Our first IT project was created 7 years ago, and now - 70 projects later, we are gaining momentum and getting ready to carry out further orders. We have interesting and diverse projects ahead of us for international clients, and therefore a chance for you to co-create these innovative solutions with us.

Technologies we willingly cooperate with

Free consultations

01

An online conversation during which we try to answer the question which processes in the company can be optimized and how.

Optimization study

02

By collecting accurate data from the company, we try to answer the question: which processes can be digitized and what will be the return on investment?

Implementation of digital processes

03

We take responsibility for the implementation of the entire IT project, we implement a large part of it ourselves, and if necessary, we coordinate the work of partners.

How do we work?

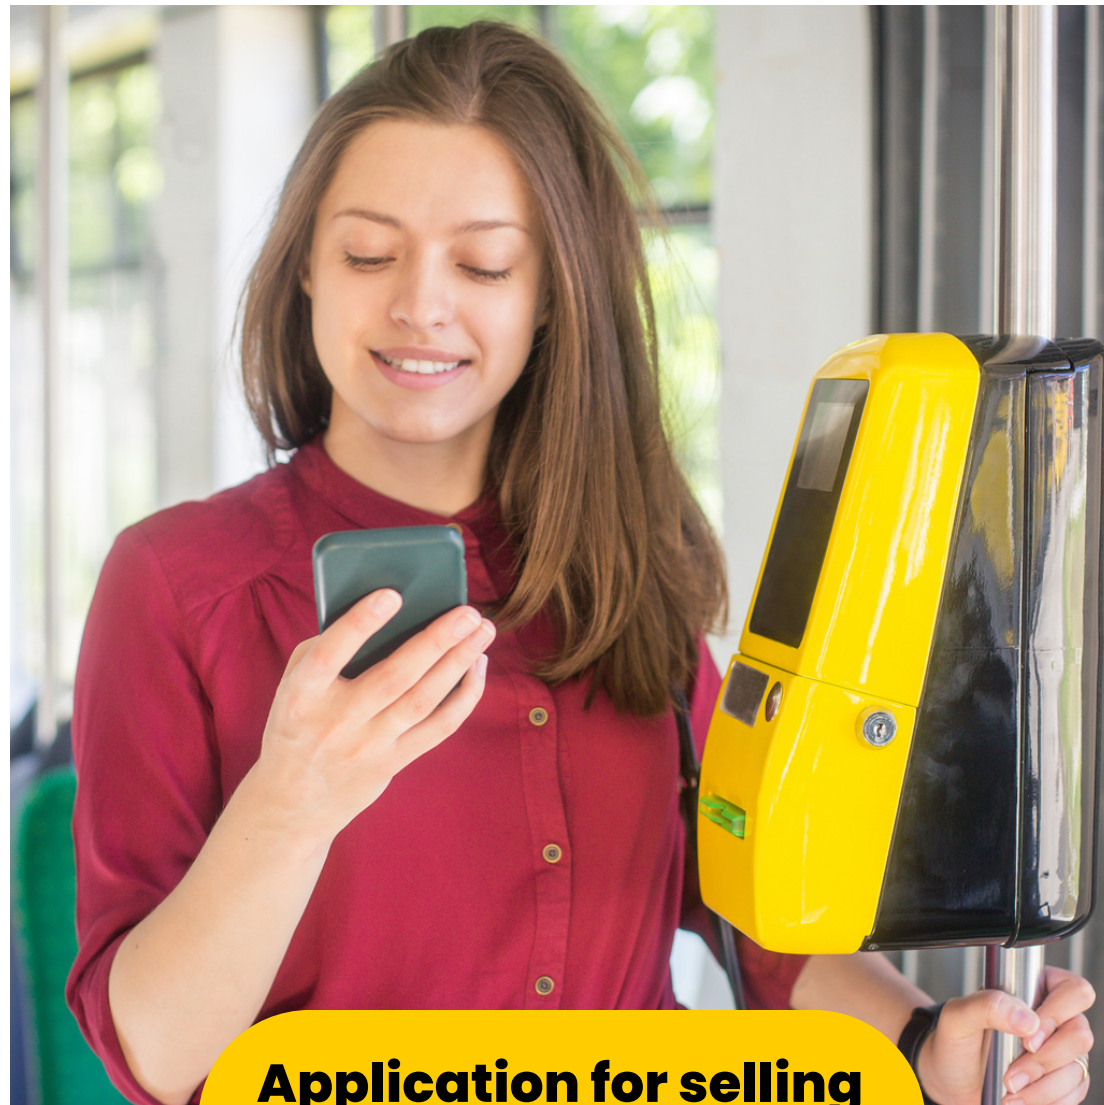

We specialize in working on demanding implementations. With full energy, we create solutions that are optimal in terms of cost and functionality. We want the INNOKREA brand to be associated with professionalism and trust.
